Girlish Complexion Now Easily Acquired

"A skin of burned snow, cream and rose" is the way an Ohio correspondent describes her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted the famous "Wash" in place of cosmetics, massage, or any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite girlish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own." The result of gradually absorbing dead particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show forth and bring its pores to breathe. No irritant, no greasy, no scum, no dirt, no removal of face bath which I recommend here it is, I am proud to say, sold in its original one-cent package, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

I have also had many favorable letters from those who have tried the "Wash" removing face bath which I recommend here it is, I am proud to say, sold in its original one-cent package, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

Utensils Cleaned in a Jiffy

KIDNEYS BOTHER
STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys; they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by sensation of stinging, or if you are eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inoperative and cannot injure; make a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

VERSATILES CONFIRM FAVORABLE IMPRESSIONS.
In their second appearance at the Empire the Versatiles more than confirmed the favorable impression created by their work on Monday evening. The rather meagre crowd present, far smaller than should greet such a company, was not slow in showing its appreciation of the performers' efforts.

As on the preceding evening Miss Zara Clinton was the star whose work alone the most brightly, although the rest of the company was little behind her. She sang a number of catchy ditties, ending up with "The Long Way to Tipperary." In a manner which met with the warm approval of the audience.

A very humorous number was "Three Black Crows," rendered by Messrs. Oswald, Conley, Menzies, Maxwell and Hogland in which they sang an old familiar song with such a solemn union that it was irresistibly funny.

Although the railway scene depicted in the playlet, the Canadian Express and the rather meagre crowd present, far smaller than should greet such a company, was not slow in showing its appreciation of the performers' efforts.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sour, if acid, if gas, if indigestion, if flatulence, if heartburn, if headache, if dizziness, if nervousness, if sleeplessness, if urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without uneasiness.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

entirely for that and then to know that everything so vividly pictured in the film is merely a visualization of the scenes of history, makes the production reach everyone with an appeal that no other motion picture could.

These films are not only commendable from the standpoint of entertainment value, and they will satisfy every class. In this respect, but as a means of instruction, a study of the man and of his wars, and his times, they furnish more effective knowledge than volumes of books on Napoleon ever could.

As though all of these days were lived over again the audience sees the Napoleon who has been so long dead, and who will remain with one long.

At the time the picture has an added value and should be seen by everyone while the opportunity presents itself.

GERMANS TAKE TRENCHES BUT ARE DRIVEN BACK AS REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE

London, Oct. 21.—"The Germans in force attacked the French position at Dixmude the night of October 16-17," says the Times London correspondent "repeating Tuesday's dispatch."

"The assault began at midnight. Large numbers of infantry advanced against the trenches outside the town. The troops holding them were outnumbered and compelled to retire on the town where they held on grimly in the darkness."

"Reinforcements arrived about dawn with the help of the artillery fire, the Germans were driven back and the trenches won again. During the course of the day the heavy artillery duel continued with the result that the German withdrew from Dixmude."

GERMANS EXAGGERATE RUSSIAN LOSSES SAYS PETROGRAD DESPATCH

Petrograd, Oct. 21.—A statement regarding the claim of the enemy that the Russian casualties around Przemyel exceeded 40,000 men is made public by the official news agency. It reads:

"The German official communications have adopted a policy of grossly exaggerating the Russian losses. It is announced here that the records in this matter are kept from and that it is known that the Austrians claim that the Russian losses at Przemyel are about 40,000 exceed the real losses a hundred times."

HOW TO STOP STOMACH TORMENT

Sound Advice From a Well-Known Physician.

Men and women who suffer from what they call dyspepsia, indigestion or just plain "stomach trouble" usually seek regular relief in the form of some pain pill or tablet, or other artificial digestant. This experience, however, is a serious error. In nine cases out of ten, the distress is caused by the development of acids in the stomach—formed by the fermenting of the food. Instead of a digestant being required, something should be taken to dissolve or neutralize this acidity, when normal digestion will follow as a matter of course.

If all the great army of people who suffer after nearly every meal would make it a point to take a teaspoonful of Magnesia, it is a quarter glass of water after each meal, there would be no formation of acidity and consequently no dyspepsia or discomfort. Sour, acid, gassy stomach, heartburn, belching, bloating, etc., would be a thing of the past. "Mildly acted Magnesia" is a physician's prescription. It is inexpensive and can be obtained at any drug store. It is prepared for just such trouble and the best proof of its efficiency is that it will stop the sharpest, biting stomach distress in five minutes from the time it enters the stomach, simply by dissolving the acids that have been formed there. Its action is absolutely harmless.

THE OPPORTUNITY TO CLASS THE MAKING OF WAR AS THE GREATEST CRIME AGAINST HUMANITY

Since 1870 the German outlook upon the world has been through the field glass of the soldier. Countries seen in the distance were regarded not as the homes of friendly neighbors whom German national feeling wished peaceful prosperity, but as regions of possible conquest. German travellers into all countries noted the details of the defensive preparations, always with an eye to what resistance could be made to German aggressions. Germany's war office extended itself to a knowledge of what would present itself in the way of resistance when German armies came. England, France, Russia, the Balkan states, and even United States and Canada, have been completely plied, the location of every storage warehouse, every dock, every railway terminal set out, the whole information bureau activities being prosecuted upon the belief that Germany would some day launch a campaign which would place Germany over all. German officers, military and naval, boasted "The Day." It was the hour to which all the apostles of German absolutism looked forward to.

Finally the day came. It was a day of German choosing. The date, as a concession to German militarism, was set upon the same day of the month as that upon which Bismarck and Moltke had launched the last great campaign, the success of which turned the head of German militarism and obsessed them with the insanity that the German which had bested an unprepared France could be made to dominate the world. The German legions were launched. All Germany was called to arms, every man capable of carrying a rifle being set about to carry out the plan of invasion secretly completed during four decades of peace. So complete was the German plan that Germany's strength was at its maximum the moment the war was called.

The war has been going less than three months. Germany's achievement so far has been to place two million men on the Russian frontier where they are held against further progress by a force assembled by a country which was presupposed to be so unprepared as to be unable to offer any resistance within months of the declaration of war, and to place two million and a half men in France, where, instead of the quick conquest which was expected, the German legions are being slowly but irresistibly driven back. Behind these two great battle lines millions more of the allies' men are steadily coming up. Their fighting force is increasing every day in numbers and efficiency. The nature of the thing Germany has attempted is becoming known not only to the millions of inhabitants of the countries at war with Germany, but to the inhabitants of the neutral countries as well. Germany's militarism is unmasked; her plan to subjugate the world is understood. Meantime the striking power behind the German hordes grows weaker every day. Her maximum strength goes down, down, always down. Her patriarchy and her children are under arms. One million and a quarter men have been placed hors de combat by one cause and another. Her commerce is wrecked, her industry ruined, her finances reel from the blow the effects of which could not be recouped by decades of her former industry and prosperity. Her former good name has become a curse. The fair-dealing nations of the globe, the inevitable denouement to the Prussian dream of dominance is already in plain sight. Already the Prussian plan of aggression has failed. They are on the defensive.

In a defensive campaign the German legions will fight with the ferocity of cornered rats. Many terrible battles remain to be fought, countless lives to be sacrificed. Much beautiful country will be devastated, many homes be swept away, many cities fall. More millions of soldiers will be required to humble Germany on the defensive than to hold against her attacks. The business of the day is to get these men to the front. Britain, in every corner of her empire, offers every man the opportunity—without placing upon any man the obligation—to join the fight for the emancipation of the world from militarist ideals. Only the absolute confidence in the purpose of her purpose could allow prompt any government to this for the fortune of the state upon the popular willingness to serve. If British subjects in every quarter of the globe answer to the call in a proportion which corresponds with the necessity, the certainty of the ultimate humiliation of the Prussian lust to dominate the world through conquest will be made doubly certain and the ideals which possess the great heart of British democracy—the ideals of progress toward human liberty through the sanctification of peace—will prevail in the hour when. In the drawing of the articles of peace, the opportunity is provided to class the making of war as the greatest crime against humanity.

WHAT THE BELGIANS SAW AT A GLANCE

That there is a waste in peace as well as in war is brought dramatically to attention from the unexpected source of the Belgian diplomatic mission which came to United States and Canada recently to lay before public opinion on this continent the story of outrages perpetrated by Prussians in Belgium. Coming, as they did, from a country now being laid waste by war, the commentary of members upon the wasteful waste of America through sheer thoughtlessness is the more remarkable. Here is what one member of the mission, Henry Cautin de Veart, told a Chicago paper:

"On our ride from Montreal to Chicago we saw hundreds of miles of fertile lands lying fallow. We saw orchards and fields with ungathered produce rotting on the ground. We saw miles of young trees being destroyed by engine sparks and left to burn unburned. Everywhere the farms and residences were divided by wooden fences that contained enough lumber to build the homes of an empire.

"The waste of America is not confined to materials. Never can a European believe the magnitude of wasted labor in America unless he visits the cities. Hundreds of thousands of men, whose energy might be applied to production, remain in enforced idleness.

"In the country, wasted lands; in the cities wasted men. On the trees and plants, ungathered food; in the centers of population, hungry elements of American life. Why do not the statesmen here address themselves to bring about an adjustment that will cure these evils.

"If any country in Europe had such bounteous natural wealth, such limitless land area fit for cultivation, and such unused labor energy, it would be quickly transformed into prosperity beyond dreams. Why, in Belgium, even the dogs work. Every city lot is cultivated and most of our garden track is raised on less ground than American waste in unused back yards."

With European eyes fresh to the scene, and coming from a country in which waste is practically unknown, the things which we overlook were painfully apparent to this man. To his frugal Belgian soul it must have appeared criminal that countries like United States and Canada could continue this prodigal waste of land, of resources and of labor and should suffer as a consequence the unnecessary poverty of countless millions of city dwellers which would be at once abolished by the application of the methods of Belgium which is now being so ruthlessly destroyed. Quite possibly, in gazing upon the empty acres he saw in what, to residents of this continent is counted as the "settled" country, he commiserated over the tragedy of fate which locks up this tremendous opportunity while there are so many millions in the world to whom the opportunity, were it open, would be such a godsend.

The error of the North American continent, which is costing this continent more every year than it has cost Europe to maintain armament which we have regarded as criminal waste, all has its root in the absurd belief that in some way the prosperity of the country can be promoted by giving a monopoly of access to land without stipulation regarding its use. When the people of Canada and United States arrive at the point in their thinking where they can realize that the man who does not intend to make the best use of land should have no right, legal or moral, to deprive any man who would use it of the opportunity, there will be no more unemployment of the nature which can claim that it has been denied the privilege of exercising itself. The thing which the Belgian gentleman saw at a glance can be remedied only by the application of the principle which the Alberta government is giving the form of legislation when it places a sur-tax on wild lands. By so doing it puts it up to land holders to work the land or get off.

THE MAN PRODUCED BY THE OCCASION

As a fulfillment of the ancient adage that the occasion will bring forth the man, it is interesting to note the part Lloyd George is playing in the situation created by the war. As a public man, Lloyd George's life has been dedicated to peace. In times of peace he was, as he is today, one of the empire's greatest pacifists. He admits, candidly, that he did not believe that the present war could occur. In his own sphere he was a fighting man of the first calibre, but his energies were absorbed in the battle for social justice. When the war came he found himself headed with a new responsibility, the responsibility of guiding the empire's financial machinery through a crisis. The very fact that, as he says, he did not anticipate this crisis makes his performance the more remarkable. The changed aspect of affairs, the change from a condition which has absorbed his entire attention to one the possibility of which he had not even considered possible, called for a versatility such as is seldom required in public life. Yet Lloyd George grapples with the new situation and is handling it in a manner which is the cause for congratulation, not to say astonishment, throughout the empire.

CORRESPONDENCE

The publishers of the Edmonton Capital feel it necessary to explain that they are not responsible for the views in letters sent to the editor. Letters will not be printed unless name and address are given for publication.

REGARDING PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of the Capital: Please grant me space in your valuable paper to give my own opinion in regard to the policy of prohibition. The views in letters sent to the editor, Letters will not be printed unless name and address are given for publication.

Prohibition may be alright for Alberta, but I very much doubt it. For instance, the state of Maine, which has been a prohibition state for many years, but beer or liquor can be purchased just the same as if they had licenses, but the workingman has to pay higher prices for his beer and other things. This bill, if passed, is, of course, going to affect the workingman more so than any other class, like all proposals which are brought forth by the "moral and temperance reform" people. It will be the cause of illicit distilleries and blind pigs being scattered all over the province and will bring the thriving farmers who will make more money in liquor than in any other way. If the "temperance and reform" league would furnish a home at very cheap rates for the benefit of the workingman, in which to spend his leisure evenings, providing good and billiard tables and tables for social games of chess, draughts or cards, with a reading room, I feel sure it would be of great benefit to the workingman. I feel sure that the workingman would be glad to go to such a place, where he could get something like this instead of going to the saloon, where he would be the first one to appreciate it. I feel sure that the workingman would be glad to go to such a place, where he could get something like this instead of going to the saloon, where he would be the first one to appreciate it.

If the league would see its way clear to start such a home, then the people of Alberta would gladly help them. I feel sure, would rush to their support. But, as it is, all agitation, simply to help the province expense and not trying to help the workingman, I can't see how they can expect to meet with success. When a man goes to a bar in this city for a drink, he feels safe, because he knows the police are there and he is afraid to drink it. But at the price of "dry" and you will see the thieves rap their harvest on poor strangers—workmen—coming to our city. They will certainly lead him to some blind pig run in connection with them; he will get doped, robbed, or worse—perhaps killed. The temperance societies will only say he deserved it—he should have taken it. But this is not the spirit to use if we are going to assist the drunkard. If the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform league will uplift and assist the drunkard, then I will give them the vote. But till then I say they will do more harm than good.

Thanking you again, Mr. Editor,
BERT FINCH,
Henry Street, Edmonton, Oct. 19, 1914.

MacKay's MAGNANIMITY

(Northern News, Athabasca.)
The magnanimity of the Hon. A. G. MacKay, M.P., was brought out in tangible style last week. It was remembered that his opponent at his election was our popular citizen, Mr. James Wood. On learning that he was free to superintend some work Mr. MacKay recommended the government to appoint him to it, and we are happy to state that the supervision of the construction of a bridge across the river has been placed in his (Mr. Wood's) hands. The work is in section 26, township 66, range 22, north of the Athabasca.

Mr. Wood recently examined the roads constructed in the district and in an old-time fashion the policy of the present member is absolutely the best that could be carried out under existing circumstances. He is very pleased with the workmanship.

Flew Over City.

London, Oct. 21.—W. L. Rees son of the rector of Llandudno, Montgomeryshire, who was attached to the headquarters staff of the marines in Antwerp, has written home saying that flight hon. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, went up in an aeroplane and flew over the city. He afterward moved out to the officers' mess and dined there.

ANARCHY AND FAMINE REIGNING IN ALBANIA ITALY TO INTERFERE

Rome, Oct. 31.—Anarchy reigns at Avlona, Albania, according to the newspaper Giornale d'Italia, owing to the struggle between the Christians and the Muslims. Pamice also adds to the difficulty of the situation.

The newspaper says that so-called "Episcopi battaglioni" which it declares are Greek troops, are gradually nibbling at the territory around Avlona, totally ignoring the decisions of the conference of London.

The Italian government, says the Giornale d'Italia, has notified Vienna, Berlin, London, Paris and Petrograd that it cannot further tolerate a systematic violation of the independence and integrity of Albania. None of these governments has made any objection to this protest.

Public Particularly Gratified by Result of Operations in Alsace

FIGHTING AT LILLE IS WATCHED WITH INTEREST

Exchange to be Made Among Belligerents For Exchange Interned Civilian

Paris, Oct. 24.—(6:20 a.m.)—Increasing satisfaction was shown by the people of Paris today on reading the latest reports from the front. These indicate that the allies are continuing their offensive operations which, in the opinion of the French observers, promise the best results.

The action of the Belgian army and of a squadron of British warships in repelling the attack of the Germans on the subject of particularly favorable comment.

The public was equally gratified by the announcement of the situation in Alsace. This was the first time in some days that the war office has indicated definitely the French position. It is now seen that French troops have almost reached the outlet of the valleys leading to the plains of the river Ill, which flows north through Alsace and empties into the Rhine.

The French now consider that they are firmly established in Alsace on territory doubly dear to them. Word has been received also that the Germans are hastily preparing new defensive works at Strasbourg. Vineyards have been leveled by the German engineers in carrying out this work.

The fighting in the vicinity of Lille has been watched with deep interest here and it is hoped that not many days will pass before the allies take this position.

The institute of France, after a lively meeting, has decided to read in public at its annual meeting next Thursday the report of five of its members condoning the course of Germany in the present war.

After long continued negotiations through the intermediary of the American legation at Bern, Switzerland, exchanges are about to be made among the belligerent countries of interned civilians. It has been decided that all women and children and all males under 17 years will be exchanged between France and Austria.

As far as is known here the arrangements with Germany have not been fully completed, but it is believed that several thousands of German prisoners in France will be allowed to return to the German frontier.

Certain men over 17 years and military prisoners will not be returned.

Explosion Kills Three.
St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 21.—Three men are dead and another seriously injured as a result of an explosion in the Gels-Biller Boiler and Machine shop here last night. The dead: Albert Geis 40 years old, member of the firm; Ernest Fairchild, 39, boiler maker; William Gardner, 25, boiler maker.

TIPPERARY.

Up to mighty London came an Irishman one day:
As the streets are paved with gold, sure every one was gay—
Singing songs of Pleadably, Strand and Leicester Squares, Till Paddy got excited; then he shouted to them there:

Chorus.
It's a long way to Tipperary,
It's a long way to go;
To the sweetest girl I know,
Goodbye, Pleadably, farewell Leicester Square!

It's a long, long way to Tipperary,
But my heart's right there.

Paddy wrote a letter to his Irish Molly O:
Saying: "Should you not receive it, write and let me know;
If I make mistakes in spelling, Molly dear," said he,
"Remember it's the pen that's bad, don't lay the blame on me."

Molly wrote a neat reply to Irish Paddy O: Saying: "Molly Malone wants to marry me, and so—
Leave the Strand and Pleadably, or you'll be to blame,
For I have had fairly drove me silly, hoping you're the same."

It's a long way to Tipperary,
It's a long way to go;
To the sweetest girl I know,
Goodbye, Pleadably, farewell Leicester Square!

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Weyb's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which restores its hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off beautiful scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Weyb's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the lustre and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

The text of the communication follows: "During the day of yesterday the attacks of the enemy were particularly heavy at Nieuport, Dixmude and L'Escaut. They all were repulsed by the allied armies with great energy.

"At all other points the situation is without any notable changes."

MANY BILLS ARE FINALLY PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Wild Lands Tax Act Again Takes up Much Time, But Goes Through.

LARGE AMOUNTS RAILWAY SECURITIES MONEY HELD

The legislature held an evening sitting Tuesday, for the first time this session. Steady work went on in the afternoon from 2:30 to 6:30, and on motion of Premier Sifton, an adjournment was made till 8:30. In the evening two hours were consumed, mostly in discussion of the mortgage act, when another judgment was made till 10:30 Wednesday.

In the afternoon a great part of the work was a discussion of the Wild Lands Tax act, bill No. 55, which went through committee of the whole. The particulars of this legislation were given in yesterday's issue of the Capital, the main purpose being to make land for purely speculative purposes pay a tax of ten mills (one cent) on the dollar per year.

Edward Michener, leader of the opposition, thought that it would be better, and the law would be more easily administered, if the tax were at so much per acre instead of on the value, but Mr. Sifton pointed out that it would hardly be fair, as land which would be affected by the act was valued at anywhere from $1 to $300 per acre.

John Kenneth of Pincher Creek was informed that the amount realized by the unearned increment tax during 1914 was $27,585.95, including $12,143.20 received at the Edmonton land titles office, and $15,442.75 received at the Calgary office.

Hon. Duncan Marshall stated, in answer to George Hoadley of Okotoks that 78 elevators had been erected in Alberta by the Alberta Farmers' Elevator company, and $325,000 secured by the government to the company.

Mr. Hoadley was also informed that the telephone department has four automobiles, and the public works department fourteen, all owned by the government.

Bills Given Third Reading.
Seven bills were given their third reading, these being an act to amend the act relating to an act to amend chapter 10 of the statutes of Alberta, 1910 (second session), respecting the "Sale of land situated on light railways by the legislature, an act respecting extra-judicial and other seizures; an act respecting a contribution to the patriotic fund; an act to provide relief to school districts; an act for raising money to contribute to the general revenue of Alberta; and an act to amend chapter 24 of the statutes of Alberta, 1913 (second session), entitled "The Brand Act."

A resolution by Premier Sifton, authorizing the Lieutenant-Governor in council to guarantee the bonds of light railways for a distance not to exceed 160 miles, during the period between October 1, 1914, and December 31, 1915, was agreed to. The premier stated that two of three applications for assistance in light railways had been made, but he had deferred action until better financial arrangements had been made.

KILBANE AND JOHNSON ONLY UNDEFEATED CHAMPS OF YEAR

No Possible Opponent in Kilbane's Class Able to Give Him Fight—This Year So Far Has Been Very Unlucky One for Boxers—Many Titles Lost.

Johnny Kilbane needs sympathy. He's a champion with nobody to fight. He's a regular Robinson Crusoe in the prize ring and he might as well be on a faraway island as long as the featherweight division.

It's all because they are not growing any more good 122 and 124 pounders. There isn't a thing at the weight—regardless of the long-winded howls of managers with tatted phrenoms that can give the Cleveland marvel a battle. Johnny can make the toughest kid in the class look foolish in ten rounds if he doesn't get over the dream wallops. He usually gets over that wallops, however.

Now somebody wants Johnny to pick on poor old Abe Attell, from whom he won the championship. Also was a whole for the 12 years he held the title, but only a couple of fights ago he quit in the midst of a fight with a comparative tyro in St. Louis, walked over the ropes, held up his gloves and announced:

"Well, I guess I'm through."

Since then Abe has been no stranger to the high spots. It is agreed that Kilbane should finish him in five rounds.

No Opponents in Sight.

Late last year Johnny was on the verge of plunging into the light-weight class. While he is without a class he is by no means without class. He undoubtedly could clean up pretty near all of the lightweights, but what could he do with the half dozen at the top remains to be seen.

These days, when the feather-weight class is a wreck, wise managers are letting their youngsters build up and try the smaller light-weights. There are enough 125-pounders in the business to create a new class. In reality, the boys in this section are the legitimate light-weights. Business is good at this weight, and the youngsters will with in the 125-limit are doing most of this fighting.

To get back to Kilbane it is to be deplored that there is no good test for him in this class. Johnny is one of the few legitimate champions, and the only one, with the exception of Jack Johnson, who has held his title.

Might as Well Have the Best

When you buy your cigar, cigarettes or tobacco, you should not only see that your money goes as far as is reasonably possible, but also that the quality of the "smokes" is such that there will be no question about its thorough enjoyment.

LANGFORD PUTS GUNBOAT SMITH INTO DREAMLAND

Leading White Hope Lasts Three Rounds Against Furious Onslaught.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—Sam Langford, the heavy-heavyweight of Boston, knocked out Gunboat Smith, of New York, in three rounds here tonight. It was the first time that the leading "white hope" of this country, who had gained a decision over Langford a year ago, has been knocked out.

The negro showed his superiority throughout. His 200 pounds was behind three solid punches before the first round was half finished, and a sweeping right felled Smith for a round of seven.

Smith finished the first round in a weak condition.

In the second round Langford again took the aggressive. Leading with the left, he hammered a right home to Smith's jaw, crushing him to the mat. Smith sprawled there for nine seconds, staggering to his feet barely in time to save himself from being counted out.

Feinting and landing with left and right, Langford rocked Smith with his blows, and floored him again. Referee Jack McQuaid, of Philadelphia, had counted four when the bell gave Smith a reprieve. Protecting himself as he could, Smith lasted through nearly two minutes of the third round.

Then Langford again pointed his left menacingly and drew Smith's guard over. The negro quickly drove his right with terrific force to the white man's jaw and Smith sank to the mat, where he was counted out.

ARCHIE KAY WINS FROM CAPT. CLIFF

Three Cushion Champ Shows He Can Play Straight Rail Also.

Archie Kay won the first game in the straight rail billiard tournament being held in the Empire Billiard hall, defeating Captain Cliff of the south side 125 to 125.

Kay got away in the lead and kept it to the finish, demonstrating that he could play straight rail as well as three cushions. He wound up the game with a pretty half mass shot.

Captain Cliff could not get going and the balls seemed to roll poorly for him all through the game. The third game will be played this evening when Archie Kay and Dr. Young will be the contestants.

Last night's score:
Kay 155, high runs 10-10.
Cliff, 125, high runs 8-9.

FRENCH DENY REIMS CATHEDRAL USED AS OBSERVATION POINT

Paris, Oct. 21.—The French military authorities indignantly deny that they used the tower of Reims cathedral as military observation points and as has been observed by the Germans to justify further bombardment of the cathedral last week. It is said here that owing to the lay of the land, such a post is unnecessary and would have no military value.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE REGIMENTAL COLORS AND MANY PRISONERS

London, Oct. 21.—The correspondent of the Times at Petrograd sends the following:

"Private reports received here state that the Russians have captured some heavy artillery near Lyck, east Prussia, and that also on the night of October 16, in the region near Warsaw, they took 50 guns and two regimental colors, besides a large number of prisoners, including a German prince, whose identity has not yet been established."

Denlin Married.

Asbury Park, N.J., Oct. 20.—Michael J. Denlin, of the New York National Baseball club, was married here this afternoon to Miss Rita Ross, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Ross. This is Denlin's second marriage. His first wife was Mabel Hite, an actress, who died about two years ago.

THINK THAT PEACE WILL BE ARRANGED IN BASEBALL

Gilmore of Federals Has Called Meeting to Discuss Arrangements for Truce—Dove of Peace is Hovering Over Baseball Ranks.

New York, Oct. 21.—President Gilmore has called a special meeting of the Federal league for next Friday at the Baltimore hotel. Gilmore intended to keep this conference a secret, but the story leaked out.

The object of Friday's meeting has not been learned, but there is little doubt that peace will be a live topic. It is possible that leaders of organized baseball will arrive here about the same time to learn what is going on.

Perhaps conferences between representatives of the warring factions may be held before the club owners leave town. Organized ball men still insist that the Federals have reached the end of the rope and they have burned up a ton of money. Bitter feeling, however, is absent just now, which would seem to indicate that both sides are anxious to come to an equitable agreement.

President Barrow, of the International league, and Edward Hanlon, of the Baltimore Federals, have buried the hatchet. They had a quarrel in a local hotel last winter. Barrow charged Hanlon with trying to ruin his old friends in organized baseball. Hanlon argued that he had a right to lease his property to the Baltimore Federals. Hanlon, a baseball man of vast experience, admitted that for the good of baseball there should be a settlement of some kind. He seemed willing to listen to a proposition which would take the Baltimore Federals into a re-organized International league.

THREE MORE COUNTRIES ADOPT 24-HOUR SYSTEM

Commencing on June 1, 1912, the hours of the day were numbered 1 to 24, from midnight to midnight, on all the French railways and in the French postal and telegraph services. It is now announced that the governments of Italy, Belgium and Uruguay have officially adopted the 24-hour system. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern railways have used this system on their western lines for years, instead of the "a.m." and "p.m." system.

J. G. TURGEON AND MARTIN WOLFE TO MAKE ADDRESSES

Able Speakers Have Been Secured

for Luncheon of Industrial Association.

ASSOCIATION OFFICES NOW

LOCATED IN PURVIS BLOCK

This Thursday's Luncheon

Promises to Be One of Best

Held This Season.

John Wolfe, in charge of the program for Thursday's luncheon of the Edmonton Industrial association, an-ounces an unusually interesting entertainment. He has taken the course of the short session of the legislature to capture two of the ablest speakers

James Wolfe, M.P., for Kingston, and

J. G. Turgeon, M.P., for Riverton. Mr.

Wolfe will speak on the topic, "Present Status of Agriculture in Canada," while Mr. Turgeon has chosen the subject, "Land Tenure in Alberta."

These are live topics and each of these men is an able exponent and a fluent speaker. Gregory's cafe should be filled to overflowing on Thursday, as the work of the association has for months been directed along agricultural lines. The usual entertaining features of a program will be continued and some important announcements will be made.

The practice of mailing notices to all members has been temporarily discontinued as a matter of economy, the daily press and the work of Chairman

F. G. McDermid and his telephone connection of 40 men being depended upon to reach all the members. The weekly meetings will continue as usual, and very strong programs have been prepared for every Thursday for the balance of the year.

The offices of the association are now located in the Purvis building, corner of Jasper avenue and First street.

A two-year lease of the entire third floor of this building has been secured, and this floor has been completely renovated and altered to suit the needs of the association. The large booths have been erected to display agricultural products, and these exhibitions will be installed and maintained by the boards of trade in the towns in the Edmonton district. The work of installing exhibits will be completed in ten days this week will be completed.

Several displays of minerals, clays,

marls, etc., will be shown under glass,

and it is hoped that a complete collection of minerals, clays, marls, etc.,

animals, birds, fish and insects native to this district will soon be gathered.

All citizens are urged to advise Secretary W. A. Milne if they are able to lend to this display any of the above mentioned articles. The objects of this display are to give the public a knowledge of the resources of the west and to give the public a knowledge of the resources of the west.
